GERMAN RAIDER HITS TWO SHIPS

British Steamers Struck
In Atlantic; Both Said
To Be In Distress

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—Two British steamers were badly damaged by a German battleship 100 miles off the coast of Newfoundland, a German radio broadcast picked up by NBC said today.

The ships, one identified as the Cornish City, and the other a ship of 16,000 tons, were so badly damaged that they were in distress, the report said.

This was the first word heard since Tuesday of the fate of the Cornish City and the 16,698-ton British passenger liner Rangitiki, which at that time radioed that they were being shelled by a German battleship of the "Graf Spee" class—hence either the Lutzwor or Admiral Scheer.

They gave their positions as in the very center of the North Atlantic, on the Canadian-British shipping lane—or more than 1200 miles east of Newfoundland.

ORDER NUMBERS COMPLETED FOR COUNTY DISTRICT

Order numbers for Pickaway County's registrants have been completed, Emmitt Crist, chairman of the local draft board, announced Thursday. The highest number assigned was 2,786, although 11 cancellations will slightly alter the list, it was pointed out.

Draft board members are now awaiting instructions from state headquarters before mailing out first questionnaires.

Burton succeeds to the senate seat now held by Vic Donahey, a Democrat.

Willkie Will Continue Fight For Principles

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—Enjoying his first full day of leisure in many weeks, Wendell L. Willkie, the defeated Republican presidential candidate, today began laying the groundwork for a continued battle for his campaign policies.

Shortly, as titular head of the Republican party, Willkie is expected to formulate its program as the opposition party in the third New Deal administration.

While yielding nothing in the philosophies he expressed in his campaign speeches and predicting their eventual adoption, Willkie was nevertheless pledged to national unity and complete cooperation with the defense program.

Willkie and Mrs. Willkie, their son, Philip, Edward Willkie, the candidate's brother and his constant campaign companion, and the latter's wife, had a quiet, intimate family dinner last night. Earlier Willkie had left the Republican campaign headquarters after thanking party aides for their loyalty.

Accepting the election result with "complete good-will," Willkie nevertheless made it plain he believes the Republican party should put up an intelligent, united and aggressive opposition to those of the Rooseveltian policies which it cannot accept. Willkie himself is to formulate the standards for this opposition. He said he wished to take his time in drawing up the program and to "reflect" on it thoroughly.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—Little Jacqueline Long was dead today and her parents had very little left to fight over. Six-year-old Jacqueline died of a nervous disorder and the long court battle over her custody between her mother, Bunny Howard, a night club singer, and Frank J. Long, a former World's Fair program seller, was closed.

Six weeks ago Jacqueline seemed to be in good health. It was then that her parents staged a free-for-all in the rotunda of a New York court. The father tried to kiss the child, but Bunny yanked her away and Jacqueline screamed for her daddy. During the melee Long was thumped to the floor and Bunny fled with her daughter.

Today, united in sorrow, the parents dropped their custody suit and it was understood that their suits for legal separation will also be dropped although they will continue to live apart. "There's nothing left to fight over now," Long said as he stood beside his wife at the funeral parlor. Together they planned services for 2 o'clock this afternoon. They will then take the body to Newton, Ill., for burial.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau today announced that new taxes would be needed and that congress would be asked to increase the statutory debt limit of the government to between $60,000,000,000 and $65,000,000,000.

Morgenthau refused to speculate on the total debt limit which this administration will ask to handle the defense program beyond June 30, 1942. He said that would depend of course, on revenues, and with Undersecretary of the Treasury Daniel W. Bell nodding his head in agreement declared that more taxes would be needed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—The American people, relaxing from the greatest exhibition of suffrage in all human history, today awaited President Roosevelt's translation of his smashing third term victory into a legislative program for submission to a re-elected Democratic congress.

Rumors prevail that the President will ask his leaders to adjourn the dying congress next week, while he takes a vacation before drafting a third New Deal program for submission to congress in January. The new program must include a relief appropriation, since present funds expire February 1, and a further increase of the national debt limitation beyond $60,000,000. There

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—President Roosevelt today described his forthcoming fourth year third term as being in office "just a little longer."

The chief executive spoke for himself and Mrs. Roosevelt before a cheering crowd which welcomed him back to Washington.

"I want to tell you how happy we both are to be back here for just a little longer," he said.

probably will be a new tax bill too, to raise increased revenue to help pay for expanding national defense.

The President's third term victory Tuesday brought forth the greatest exhibition of balloting in all time. Final tabulations undoubtedly will show the President received around 27,500,000 votes and Wendell Willkie, defeated Republican nominee, around 23,350,000—for a total in excess of 51,000,000.

Willkie Vote Highest

The President may possibly run a bit short however of his 1936 total of 27,476,673, but Willkie will have received more votes than any other Republican nominee in American history and far more than any other man ever defeated for the presidency. Former President Herbert Hoover

PATROLMAN SHASTEEN ON SUSPENSION OF 10 DAYS

Patrolman Alva Shasteen was under suspension Thursday from the Circleville police department.

His ten-day suspension for "disciplinary purposes" became effective November 5, Karl Herrmann, city safety director, said.

NEWSPAPER THAT AIDED F. D. R. URGES CABINET POSITION FOR WILLKIE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—Eleanor Patterson, publisher of the Washington Times-Herald which strongly supported President Roosevelt, today urged that Wendell Willkie be given a cabinet position.

In a front page editorial addressed to Mr. Roosevelt, Mrs. Patterson said: "We hope that you make this offer. And we hope Mr. Willkie will accept."

REICH REFUSES SAFE PASSAGE FOR U. S. LINER

Ship To Return Americans
From England Denied
Right To Travel

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—The State Department announced today that the German government had refused to grant safe conduct for a United States vessel to make a voyage to Great Britain to repatriate 1,200 Americans now in that country.

The refusal was made after the German government had assured Washington that it was willing to guarantee that its submarines would not attack the ship and also after a copy of this note was shown to the Reich authorities in Berlin.

Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy urged the State Department to send a vessel to bring home Americans who now are isolated in war torn London.

KNOX APPROVES PAY INCREASES IN NAVY YARDS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—Secretary of the Navy Knox today approved wage increases for approximately 44,000 civil employees at various navy yards and naval stations. The pay increases, recommended by a special naval board of review, will amount to approximately $3,800,000 a year.

Workers at naval posts in Boston, Newport, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Norfolk, South Charleston, W. Va., Charleston, S. C., Pensacola, San Diego, Puget Sound and Great Lakes, Ill., will be affected by the increase.

The pay increases are for various types of laborers, helpers and mechanics.

MURRAY TO WIN JOHN L. LEWIS' POSITION IN CIO

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—A CIO shakeup placing Vice-President Philip Murray in the presidency and a red hot campaign to unionize the entire steel industry today faced the John L. Lewis wing of organized labor.

Preparing to keep his promise and abdicate CIO leadership because of President Roosevelt's reelection, Lewis "rebuffed" draft movements and cannily rallied his lieutenants behind the candidacy of Murray, a staunch New Deal backer.

Lewis will continue his office as president of the United Mine Workers Union, which pays him a $25,000 a year.

MORE PARALYSIS LISTED

Pickaway County, Tuesday, cast the greatest number of votes in its history, 13,220 ballots being counted in the various precincts, according to the Board of Elections' official tabulation. The official count in 1936, the last presidential year, was 13,118, the increase being 102 votes.

Of the total vote, 4,461 were cast in Circleville and 8,759 in the townships and rural areas.

The final tabulation of the vote failed to develop any important changes, none of the candidates picking up many or losing many votes. The only notable change was in the 11th District Congressional race, where Ray W. Davis, Circleville, fell farther behind Congressman Harold K. Claypool. The checkup showed Davis with 6,115 votes against 6,259 for Claypool, 100 more in favor of the incumbent than were listed in the unofficial count.

SINGLE COUNTY DELAYS TOTAL IN STATE VOTE

COLUMBUS, Nov. 7—Unreported precincts in Hamilton County today still were holding up tabulation of the total vote cast by Ohioans in the general election, according to Secretary of State George Neffner.

Neffner and his aides worked late last night waiting for returns from Hamilton County's 729 precincts. The central counting system used in the Cincinnati area was blamed for late tabulation there. A few still were to report today.

With only 10 of the state's 8675 precincts unreported, the Ohio precinct vote stood: Roosevelt, 1,728,020; Willkie, 1,436,489. For governor, 8546 precincts gave Bricker 1,775,084 and Davey 1,436,489.

SOFIA, Bulgaria—The Bulgarian government today placed before Parliament a bill barring Jews from the army, public services, the press, major business enterprises, the arts and farming. The measure also would prohibit employment of Gentile servants by Jews and marriages between Jews and Gentiles.

CAIRO—British troops supported by Royal Air Force planes captured the important Ethiopian border post of Gallabat, an official communique announced today. Prisoners were taken and a counter-attack repulsed. A British mobile force in the Kassala sector, where Sudanese troops scored an important victory a few days ago by ambushing an Italian detachment, is maintaining pressure on enemy forces in the Jebeldendel area, it was said.

FRANCE'S ENVOY TO VISIT PARIS TO MEET NAZIS

VICHY, France, Nov. 7—In a new attempt to straighten out France's involved political and economic situation under German occupation, Vice-Premier and Foreign Minister Pierre Laval left Vichy for Paris today.

Prior to his departure for another meeting with German officials, Laval conferred with Premier Marshal Henri Philippe Pétain.

The nation's ultimate fate in the Paris negotiations was summed up by Marshal Maxime Weygand who said to a gathering at Morocco: "France lost the war and must pay the price."

Vichy reports said that announcement soon would be made of Franco-German economic and financial agreements, assuring French collaboration in Nazi Germany's new "European economy."

LONDON, Nov. 7—A veiled warning that British planes may soon bomb Rome was voiced in the House of Commons today by Foreign Under-Secretary Richard Austen Butler.

Taking note of an Italian announcement that Italian planes and pilots now are participating in attacks on London, Butler said: "His Majesty's government must accordingly reserve full liberty of action with regard to Rome."

LONDON, Nov. 7—Five enemy aircraft were shot down today, an official announcement said.

By International News Service
Increased Anglo-German aerial warfare, continued heavy fighting in Greece and Albania and hints of a possible Japanese move against British Hong Kong in the Far East provided the chief war events abroad today.

In London a new air raid alarm sounded early in the afternoon as German bombers soaring over the city throughout the night and early morning had given the British capital a heavy pounding, causing casualties and considerable damage.

A block of London apartments was struck while other Nazi raiders attacked the midlands, the eastern counties, Scotland, and the southern, southeastern and southwestern areas of England.

"Big Berthas" Active

British planes attacked targets in the Reich and along the German-held channel coast during the night, and early this morning German "big Berthas" on the French coast bombarded the Dover area. A Berlin announcement said this bombardment was aimed at a British shipping convoy off Dover and that one ship was severely hit and believed sinking.

In Athens it was estimated that 30,000 Italian soldiers have been killed, wounded or captured since Greco-Fascist hostilities began. The Greek high command announced heavy artillery action along the entire northern front and said that Italian air raids on Greek centers had killed some civilians but failed to damage military objectives.

An official Greek communique said Greek forces had continued to advance on the western Macedonian Front and that four Italian field guns, nine mortars and 25 machine guns had been captured.

While American Secretary of State Cordell Hull forecast "firm continuance" of the administration's foreign policies as a result of President Roosevelt's reelection, Japanese newspapers took a black view of future Tokyo-Washington relations. The newspaper

PUERTO RICO'S NAVAL DEFENSE WORK IS RUSHED

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Nov. 7—Far ahead of schedule is the naval defense program in Puerto Rico, it was learned today.

Gov. William D. Leahy, former chief of naval operations, revealed in a press conference that the giant Isla Grande airbase, scheduled for completion by June, 1942, will be ready by June, 1941.

Naval officials here also revealed that the drydock at Miraflores—which is to be the only deep-draught graving dock in the West Indies—will be completed on January 1, 1941 instead of June 30, 1941, six months ahead of schedule.

Dredging of the channel leading to the dock will be necessary, however, before cruisers and destroyers are able to use it.

BRICKER'S VOTE OVER DEMOCRAT PASSES 340,000

Precedent Broken As G. O. P.
Incumbent Gains Highest Majority In History

TWO DEMOCRATS NAMED
Control Of Legislature To Remain In Republican
Hands

COLUMBUS, Nov. 7.—Although President Roosevelt had a 144,000-vote margin in Ohio over Wendell Willkie, his GOP opponent, Gov. John W. Bricker, a Republican, was elected to a second term by a plurality of more than 340,000, final returns from Tuesday's election revealed today.

Not only was it the first time in 40 years that a Republican had been elected for a second term in the governor's office, but it was the largest margin ever rolled up in a gubernatorial contest.

However, despite Bricker's runaway victory over former Gov. Martin L. Davey, two Democrats were elected to state offices and some of the Republican candidates had close calls. The Democrats also gained four congressional seats in Ohio's delegation of 24, including one congressman-at-large.

Ohio's two Senators in the next Congress will be Republican, however, as Mayor Harold H. Burton, of Cleveland, emerged the winner in the race to fill the seat vacated by U. S. Sen. Vic Donahey.

Ferguson, Sweeney Win
The two victorious Democrats in contests for state offices were Joseph T. Ferguson, who won a second four-year term as state auditor, and John E. Sweeney, of Cleveland, who defeated Edward J. Hummel, of Cincinnati, for secretary of state.

It was indicated Ferguson's margin of victory would be about 68,000 votes while Sweeney's would be about 128,000.

Don H. Ebright, of Akron, the Republican incumbent state treasurer, was re-elected by a margin of less than 44,000 votes while Lieut. Gov. Paul N. Herbert was more than 225,000 ahead of his Democratic opponent, Robert S. Cox.

Thomas J. Herbert, incumbent Republican attorney general, was re-elected by approximately 135,000 votes over George D. Nye, while Burton's margin over John McSweeney, of Wooster, in the U. S. Senatorial contest, was approximately 130,000 votes.

Other winners in state contests were George H. Bender, Republican, and Stephen C. Young, Democrat, as congressmen-at-large; Judge Charles B. Zimmerman, Democrat, re-elected to the state supreme court for a six-year term; Gilbert Bettman, former Republican attorney-general, to the January 2 supreme court term, and Judge Edward C. Turner, Republican, elected to serve out the term of the late Supreme Court Judge George S. Myers.

G.O.P. Over Assembly
The senate of the 94th general assembly will be Republican, with the GOP apparently winning 20 seats to the Democrats' 16. The present senate has 27 Republicans and eight Democrats.
The GOP also apparently won control of the House, with Republicans apparently victors for 77 seats and the Democrats for 61.

WAR VETERANS MEET
Department Adjutant Albert J. Daniels will speak at a meeting of the Disabled Veterans of World War at 8:15 p. m. Thursday in the Post room, Memorial Hall. All World War veterans are invited.

B.P.O.E. To Honor General Pershing

General John J. Pershing

Circleville Lodge of Elks is planning to initiate a General John J. Pershing Class Tuesday, December 3, at which time all Elks lodges in the nation will conduct a similar ceremony.

Andrew U. Thomas, exalted ruler of the Circleville lodge, said Thursday that the national class will be the largest single class ever initiated into the Order which now has 1,400 lodges and 500,000 members.

The class is part of a general program of defense which has been set up by the leaders of the Order.

The national preparedness program of the Elks consists of three major objectives:

1. Uphold and teach Americanism and our democratic form of government.
2. Discover and report treasonable, subversive and fifth column activities in America.
3. Assist in the physical development of the youth of our country.

Raw apples, according to a culinary expert, are healthier to eat than when prepared in a pie. Hey! Next thing we know they'll try to tell us that about pumpkins!

AMANDA REMAINS DRY AS PROPOSITIONS FAIL

Amanda village and Amanda Township both remain "dry" after propositions which would have allowed license holders to sell beer in both places were defeated.

In the township local option, the total against the sale was 312 and 228 for the proposal. In Amanda precinct the total was 124 for and 148 no and in Royalton precinct the total was 104 for and 165 against.

The proposition was snowed under in Amanda Village where 211 persons opposed the sale and 132 voted in favor of permitting the sale.

PIG HAS EIGHT LEGS

LA GRANDE, Ore. — Orval McOrter is considering entering one of his youngest pigs in a parade. The reason — the little fellow has eight legs. Growing out of the four "regular" legs at the first joint, are the four extra appendages. All eight feet touch the ground and are used by the young pig as he dashes around his pen with his normal brothers and sisters.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filter don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Other Counties Split Strength

Some In Pickaway's Neighborhood Remain On Democratic, Others On Republican; Reid Named; Hocking Beats Farbeann

A survey of election results in counties surrounding Pickaway brings out several interesting notes worthy of more than passing notice. Some of the counties expressed desire to continue with officers who have served several terms and have become experienced in their work, while others turned aside bids for lengthy tenure of office. Pickaway County showed its willingness to retain officials for longer than the usual two terms. Sheriff Charles Radcliff, one of the most popular officers to ever serve Pickaway County, was named to his fifth term, and his total vote was the largest cast for any one candidate in the county. Two others who remain beyond the second term include Robert G. Colville, treasurer, and A. L. Wilder, clerk of courts. Ross County kept Lester Reid, native of Pickaway County, in the prosecutor's office for an additional term, his present one being his fourth. Reid's margin over John Phillips was only 112 votes.

Collins Defeated
William Collins, Chillicothe, widely known in Circleville, lost in an effort to win the sheriff's toga in Ross County. Oather A. Maugher, deputy sheriff, winning 12,222 against 11,203. Other Ross County winners were: James F. Blain and Harold R. Perry, commissioners; James W. Vause, county recorder; Dr. R. E. Oliver, coroner; William F. Immell, treasurer; Albert L. McFarland, engineer, and Kenneth T. Stevens, probate judge, the latter defeating Marshall Fenton, another widely known Ross Countian.

Four of five bond issues were okehd in Ross County, including a three-mill levy in Chillicothe for school operation; similar levies in Twin and Huntington school districts, and a $16,000 bond issue for a waterworks at Frankfort. A $175,000 issue in Southeastern School district for an addition failed.

The Sixth District, which includes Pike, Scioto, Highland, Adams, Brown and Clermont Counties, was sending former Judge Jacob Davis of Waverly to congress over Chester P. Fitch, Portsmouth attorney. Davis' unofficial vote was 52,772 against 48,348.

Clinton County returned all Republicans to office. Over in Perry County, only one Democrat was able to gain office, that one being Miss Nina Holden, recorder. Other Democrats including Clerk Ned Watts were beaten, but one unusual feature of the race was that Congressman Harold Claypool carried the county, 7,251 against 6,974 for Ray W. Davis of Circleville.

Farbeann, Lappen Lose
Hocking County, which also went for Claypool, turned down Sheriff Joe Farbeann for an additional term and did the same thing to Hubert Lappen, Laurelville, who has been serving as prosecutor. Lappen is chairman of the Democratic party in the county.

Fayette County returned to the Republican column after eight years on the Democratic side, only two Democrats winning office. They were Sheriff W. H. Icenhower and Treasurer Willis E. McCoy. On the other hand, only two Republicans were able to make the grade in Fairfield County, they being Probate Judge C. E. Ruble who was elected to his fourth term, and Arthur O. Young as a county commissioner, although unofficial reports gave him only 14 votes over George B. Renshaw.

Democrats to win in Fairfield included Dudley Crider, sheriff; Peavy, state senator; Sims, state representative; Cox, commissioner; Hastings, prosecutor; Rowles, clerk of courts; Parish, recorder; Welty, treasurer; Wolford, engineer; Dupler, coroner.

(1) A Greek thrust cuts south-westward around the Albanian town of Koritza while (6) Greek forces inflict a stunning defeat on Italian troops (5) which had been advancing on the Grecian city of Yanina. ## Did you buy YOUR car on "Millinery"?

YOU hear it said often nowadays that it's millinery that sells automobiles.

All right—let's put it up to one who knows. Did you buy your car on nick-nacks, trick devices, novelties?

We don't think so.

We believe that while considering style, and room, and comfort — you really picked your car on what it would do on the road!

Now, we take our hats off to no car for being smarter-looking than Buick. We'll match our product against any for room, for appointments, for fine finish, for comfort.

But beyond all that, we challenge the whole field to equal

Buick on its downright all-round performance ability.

On its power—on its pull—on its pick-up—on its easy handling (including freedom from shifting)—yes, and on its thrift.

Nowhere will you find a car that does so much so well and so frugally.

You'll find novelties in the new Buicks of course, but they're not the chief attraction. Instead you'll see the two big basic engineering developments of the year — FIREBALL design and Compound Carburetion.

DEMOCRATS WIN NEW POSITIONS IN WASHINGTON

Election Trend Discloses
New Deal Strong Enough To Beat Coalitions

SENATOR MINTON LOSES

Hoosier's Defeat Most Important Blow To Roosevelt Men

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—The Democratic sweep in senatorial and congressional contests in Tuesday's election was so pronounced that bi-partisan anti-New Deal coalitions may be beaten by President Roosevelt, nearly complete compilations indicated today.

Democrats had scored a net gain of 12 seats over Republicans in the already top-heavy Democratic house. Republicans gained three, and perhaps four, Democratic senatorial seats, but failed to dent seriously the huge Democratic majority.

The Democratic tide brought back into congress many ardent New Deal congressmen, who were ousted two years ago. They are expected to join the administration in resisting bi-partisan coalition in the house, which have upset the New Deal frequently in the last two years.

Democrats had won 270 house seats to 148 for the Republicans, one American-Labor and three Progressives, with 14 contests still doubtful.

Third Party Men Lose

While three progressives won congressional seats in Wisconsin, third party candidates on the whole were buried in the election with the two-party system again dominating the political arena.

Republicans acclaimed their gains in the senate. They appeared to have ousted Democrats by electing Raymond E. Willis to the senate in Indiana, C. Wayland Brooks in Illinois, Hugh A. Butler, Omaha industrialist, in Nebraska and Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland in Ohio. They also benefited by action of Sen. Shipstead, Minnesota, in changing his allegiance from the Farmer-Labor to the Republican party.

Minton Defeated

Defeat of Sen. Sherman Minton in Indiana, Democratic whip of the senate and an ardent New Dealer, was regarded as a blow to the administration. He may be appointed to a federal judgeship.

The victory of C. Wayland Brooks in Illinois brings into the senate a widely known orator who has taken a pronounced anti-war stand. It was Brooks who most upset the Republican platform committee last summer by demanding the strongest kind of an anti-war plank.

Republicans admitted that they had suffered a serious loss in defeat of Sen. Townsend in Delaware. He was regarded as one of the leading strategists of congressional republicans.

Sen. John Thomas (R) Idaho, successor to the late Sen. Borah, was engaged in a close race in Idaho.

AMANDA

During the business session it was decided to present $5.00 to Amanda School for their lunch project. A food donation will be given also to the school at the next meeting.

IS WAR NEXT?

The tumult and the shouting of the campaign have now died. What men say now is not for party. It is for country.

Many men have said that as soon as the election was over we will be in the war within a few months. Both of the leading candidates promised not to send our armed force abroad. But that promise was broken at the moment it was made. President Roosevelt delivered 50 destroyers to one of the belligerents. Mr. Willkie approved this act although he questioned its method, and its secrecy. Those destroyers were part of our armed might. If 50 warships can be transferred to help fight a war the entire fleet, or any part of it, can be also. And may be.

It is a quibble to say that we are not going to participate in the war. We are participating and without the consent of Congress. Those destroyers will make a war. Therefore Mr. Roosevelt has made war. He sent them overseas to fight. That was his only purpose.

Neither Mr. Roosevelt nor Mr. Willkie was entirely honest with us, nor with himself. They both split hairs to win votes. All either actually promised not to do was not to send men. But in war a battleship is more important than a man. When we send the floating guns belonging to this government to fight in a foreign war, that act gives the nation or nations against whom the guns will fire, the right to retaliate. They will retaliate. They will sink our former fighting ships if they can. And they may also sink other ships and those who man them.

Moreover, if after giving a belligerent part of our navy or air force we find that is not enough, will we stop then and there? Will we get half way into a war and then pull out, thus acquiring none of the benefits but all of the enemies of a half fighter and full coward? Neither candidate answered that question. Neither honestly faced the ultimate issue. The fact is that the millions of our people who are determined to not fight overseas had no real champion in the campaign just closed. Both of the leading candidates were and are interventionists in fact. But they hid the fact behind a mask of words.

What resource is left to these millions of Americans? Just one, Congress. Your newly elected Congressman is now home in your district. Before he leaves for Washington, tell him to his face, at his office, at his home, by telephone, or by letter that he promised not to go farther into this war than we already are and that you expect him to keep that pledge.

These are solemn days. And 1944 is a long way off. Will we have a free government four years hence? That will depend on whether we are still capable of being all-American or half-English or half-Chinese.

It has been said that you can sell the American people anything at all if you only wrap it in the flag. We are saps for slogans. In half a century we have not followed a slogan without regret. Forty years ago "manifest destiny" and "remember the Maine" carried us to the Philippines, although no member of the Court of Inquiry found the slightest evidence that the Spanish government blew up the Maine. A few years ago we agreed to withdraw from the Philippines and leave "manifest destiny" to its fate. If God is good, we shall by 1946 have gotten out of the Philippines without a major war to defend prestige.

In 1917 we went hell bent to "make the world safe for democracy". As soon as the guns grew cool we decided we had made another terrible blunder.

On November 11, 1918, Marshal Foch said, "The armies will stand at ease. The war has been adjourned for 29 years." Will new slogans now send the sons of the A.E.F. to confess to the youth of 1960 that we are completely incapable of being Americans?

"Armistice" is a poor name for Monday next. It should be "Never Again Day". Let us ask ourselves some questions.

Shall we continue to meddle in every quarrel throughout the world? Or shall we return to the Monroe Doctrine? Shall we pledge our lives and fortunes for all time to defend the imperialism of any foreign power outside the Americas? Have not the struggles for land, raw materials and seaports gone on since time began? Have they not gone on wholly irrespective of the kind of governments involved, whether absolute monarchies or republics? Did not we, a republic, take land by armed force from Englishmen, Indians, Mexicans and Spaniards?

Is there any reason to believe that Germany, Italy and Japan would not seek what growing nations have always sought if they were also republics and France and England were dictatorships? The fact is that the greatest colonial expansion of France, England, and the United States took place while all three were constitutional democracies.

Let us tell the whole cockeyed world on Monday next that we are fed up on slogans and will fight only if and when our own vital interests are directly attacked.

SAMUEL B. PETTENGILL.

Grade One and Two

Attendance in this room continues good, having had an average of 98 percent for the last month. Just now we are specializing in word drills and beginning spelling in the first grade. Both grades are doing supplementary reading in connection with their basic reading.

We find our new writing books very interesting and helpful.

Grade Four

Our room received a new American flag from the office last week. We are very proud of it. We are learning how to display the flag. We have a poster with twenty-one ways to display the flag on it.

In our English class we have been working on a unit — "The History of Lights". We are planning posters and booklets about this topic.

Grade Five

We have been discussing business letters in the fifth grade. We have learned that—

1—A good business letter should be brief.

2—A good business letter should be neatly and clearly written.

3—A good business letter should leave out all unnecessary details. James Clifford, Mildred Long, Arthur Sanders, and Bobby Lee Riley have written some nice business letters.

Grade Six

Last week this room organized its class. President, Kenneth Reid, vice president, Rosemary Neff; secretary, Mildred Furniss; treasurer, Arthur Dick. It was decided to pay five cents a month as dues. The banking is to be done at the Farmer's National Bank. The money is to be used for the buying of flowers for a classmate who might be ill and for anything else that the class may consider necessary.

Flora Belle Louterback, who had an attack of appendicitis, is now back in school again.

The sixth grade in history are studying the early beginnings of Greece and connecting it with present day Greece and the war.

Fifteen minutes a day is devoted to current events and little talks about the European War.

Rosemary Neff, Joan Carpenter, Mildred Furniss, and Norma Jean Wright are making music posters consisting of Musical Instruments.

Athletics

Twenty boys have reported for basketball at Monroe High School. Bloomberg comes to Monroe on November 12, which will be the opening game of the season. On November 15 the team will go to Perry to play the first county game.

DARBY TWP. SCHOOL NEWS

School was dismissed Friday so the teachers might attend the Central Ohio Teachers' Meeting in Columbus. All of our teachers attended and enjoyed.

The majority of the Juniors and Seniors attended the football game Saturday between Ohio State and Indiana.

Miss Eleanor Roberts of Columbus was employed at a Board Meeting last Thursday night to succeed Miss Snyder as our music teacher. Miss Snyder resigned to go into business in Columbus.

A large crowd turned out at the Halloween dance sponsored by the Darby P.T.A. A last Thursday night at the school building. The financial returns were very gratifying to the sponsors. A rabbit supper to be sponsored by the same group is being planned for November 19.

Perhaps many of the newly enlisted men don't know how to spell "reville" but it isn't long before they discover just what it means.

Library Notes

NEW ADDITIONS TO THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

A World of Stories for Children —H. B. Clark, ed. A large volume of stories for children of all ages, boys or girls. The book comprises a large part of the outstanding imaginative tales, legends and stories from earliest times down to the beginning of the modern era—stories that by choice, popularity and common consent have become the great heritage of the child. There are notes upon each story and a graded list of the stories to aid one in the use of any title for a particular grade or age group.

Westward the Tide—By Harold Sinclair. Colonel George Rogers Clark took the Illinois territory for the British with a handful of beggared and hungry men — and the story of his campaign is told by Philip Guard, a young ensign in the expeditionary force. Mr. Sinclair has reconstructed that expedition in a novel rich in detail, colorful and authentic in its setting, and dominated by the magnificent personality of Colonel Clark.

Mr. Littlejohn—By Martin Flavin. Mr. Littlejohn, president of Rosdyent Inc., had vanished. His family and the newspapers thought he had been kidnapped. Actually he was having fun for the first time in his life, and his adventures as he travelled across the country in a rented car, the strange people he met, and the aliases he left behind him make up this story of one man's revolt from what the world expected of him.

For Us the Living — By Bruce Lancaster. This book ends where Robert Sherwood's Abe Lincoln in Illinois began. It is not so much a novel about Lincoln as a story of that wild rambunctious country along the Ohio where he grew up, and of which he was a part. The people are a rowdy, picturesque crew — keel-boaters, "movers" and packers, sturdy pioneers, unsavory pariahs and parasites. This is a story of our country growing up, and of a long-legged boy who grew up with it along the hard-nosed trace that led to the presidency.

Clear for Action—By Clements Ripley. This is a novel about John Paul Jones, America's first naval hero. The story is told by Angus Lowrie, clerk to Paul Jones, a fictional character of the most appealing kind. Lowrie's unique way of putting things, his love affair with a Charleston belle sought after by Arthur Lee and Jones himself, his courage, his shrewd management of finances go into the making of an appealing character outshone in the

The Family — By Nina Fedorova. This is one of those gay and tragic and timeless books that lingers in the memory. The story takes place in China during the Japanese invasion of 1937. The family is White Russian — exiles who are trying to make ends meet by running a boarding house. They have strange boarders with whom many experiences and adventures are shared as war and separation cloud their lives. But the family finds a faith to sustain them when they need it most.

The Salvation of Pisco Gabar—By Geoffrey Household. A dozen short stories by a top ranking English story teller are packed into this third volume which are as well told as Rogue Male or The Third Hour. They are all well done artistically, exciting, full of adventure. Men especially will enjoy these tales.

Their Own Country—By A. T. Hobart. Returning to an American scene, Alice Hobart brings Hester and Stephen Chase, that sensitive, indomitable pair of Oil for the lamps of China, back to their own country and sets them in the midst of teeming uncertainty where they can view the newest of civilizations and compare it with the oldest—the Chinese—which they have known.

River Out of Eden—By Shirley Seifert. A story taking place in 1763 when young Andre Theriot accompanied a convoy of boats up the Mississippi, ignorant of the cargo his boat carried, and unaware of the motives which had prompted the Sieur de Varnell to offer him the coveted post. A novel well constructed that shows careful research into a little known phase of American history.

Here Is a Book — By Marshall McClintock. One day an author begins to write a story for boys and girls. It is called Scoop and tells about Toby, Guy, and Betty, and their newspaper. Then an artist draws pictures to illustrate Scoop, it is printed, bound, and sent to libraries and stores. Here is a book telling the complete story of the writing and making of Scoop. It explains with simple words and many pictures how the author writes the story, how the paper is made, how the linotype, printing presses, and binding machines work; how the artist draws the pictures and how the illustrations are put into the book.

And then, best of all, comes Scoop a full length story with lively pictures by Ninon Knight that will be enjoyed by any boy or girl from grade, six through high school.

Thus Doctor Mallory—By Elizabeth Seifert. This is the story of a young man who completely isolated himself from the ordinary world of his contemporaries in order to study medicine.

BUCKEYE COACH TO SPEAK FOR KIWANIS EVENT

Club To Entertain High School Gridders And Coaches Monday

TURKEY TO BE SERVED

Max Gilstrap Provides Excellent Program Wednesday Eve

The Circleville Kiwanis Club will conduct its annual banquet for the Circleville High School football lettermen and their coaches next Monday evening at Hanley's tearoom with Max Gilstrap, Ernie Godfrey of Ohio State University as the speaker. Arrangements for the banquet are in charge of Dan McClain and Virgil Cress. Godfrey is expected to bring some motion pictures with him, and it is possible that one or two members of the Buckeye team will come along.

Invited guests will include the lettermen, the number of which has not been determined, Coach Roy Black and Tom Armstrong, and team manager. Turkey will be served. The Kiwanis Club has been conducting football banquets for several years at the close of each season.

The second of the Kiwanis Club Festival series was presented Wednesday evening in the High School auditorium with Max Gilstrap, naturalist from the Grand Canyon, providing one of the outstanding programs of the year. Mr. Gilstrap, who was accompanied by Mrs. Gilstrap, presented a highly interesting address, and his whistling was exceptionally good.

The naturalist was loudly applauded during the program which lasted for two hours.

INDIANA IN WILLKIE'S COLUMN BY SMALL EDGE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 7.—After many hours of doubt as to the outcome of the presidential race in Indiana, almost complete returns today indicated that Wendell Willkie, the GOP nominee, won his native state in Tuesday's election by between 15,000 and 20,000 votes.

Returns from rural areas slow to report enabled Willkie to overhaul President Roosevelt, who led in early returns from heavily populated industrial areas, and place Indiana's 14 electoral college votes in the Republican column.

The Republican tide in Indiana carried over into the senatorial contest, in which the incumbent, Democratic Senator Sherman Minton, was defeated by the Republican nominee, Raymond E. Willis, Angola publisher. Willis' indicated margin of victory was close to 20,000 votes.

ROOSEVELT'S CALIFORNIA LEAD OVER HALF MILLION

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7.—President Roosevelt increased his lead over Wendell L. Willkie in California today as ballot counting neared conclusion.

The Democratic presidential plurality reached 530,000, with approximately 40 of the Golden State's 13,692 precincts still unreported.

Complete final tabulations, determining the exact size of the President's lead, will not be learned for three weeks at which time official figures are forwarded to the secretary of state.

BRITISH LOSE BIG SHIP, ITALIAN RADIO REPORTS

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Sinking of the British Cunard liner Carpathia has been announced by the official Rome radio, the National Broadcasting Company said today. No further details were given, according to NBC's short wave listening station.

Although Lloyd's Register does not list a Cunard liner named Carpathia, it was recalled that the original Carpathia was sunk during the World War after gaining renown for aiding in the rescue of the survivors of the luxury liner Titanic in 1912. So far as is known, no ship by the name of Carpathia is in service today.

The Great Smoky Mountain National park in North Carolina and Tennessee, is unique among U. S. national parks in that it encourages original settlers and their descendants to keep their homes in the park.

JIM COX EXPRESSES HIS VIEWS ABOUT ELECTION

DAYTON, Nov. 7.—Former Ohio Gov. James M. Cox, with whom President Roosevelt ran on the Democratic presidential ticket in 1920, today issued the following statement:

"Much has been said about ambassadors. We nominate one, Franklin D. Roosevelt, ambassador of good will. There is much to be done at home and abroad. We hope and believe he will do it."

LaFOLLETTE COMES FROM BEHIND TO RETAIN POST

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 7.—Although early returns indicated he might be upset by the Republican candidate, Fred H. Clausen, U. S. Senator Robert M. La Follette, Progressive party supporter of President Roosevelt, today held reelection by an indicated majority of better than 45,000 votes.

La Follette, who has held his senate seat almost 15 years, trailed Clausen throughout all early tabulations of Tuesday's vote and for a time it was believed he might be defeated by the Republican. The Democratic candidate, James E. Finnegan, was far behind in the race.

PLAN TO END HURRICANES

MIAMI, Fla., — James A. Shires, of Denver, Colo., wrote Miami city officials suggesting that tropical hurricanes around the district be eliminated by air-conditioning the Caribbean Sea. He thinks cold storage ships by pushing blasts of frigid air beneath the waters, could stop the storms at their point of origin.

The planet Venus is 1,000,000,000 years younger than the earth. It's too bad we aren't setting a better example for the innocent young thing.

REVIVING "GHOST TOWNS"

WITH American industry reviving and expanding under the impetus of rearmament, plus foreign war orders, it is time for a revival of "ghost towns."

These are largely one-industry towns, where a mill or factory that once meant life and prosperity to the community has shut down for some reason or other and never managed to open again. With its closing, employees have usually sought work elsewhere, and perhaps the town in general has started to run down and never got a grip on life again.

The National Defense Advisory Commission is now trying to revive such towns, with help of the Federal Reserve System. Cooperation will be sought, too, among manufacturers. Surveys will be made. There will be concerted efforts to revive such communities on a broad scale by restoring industrial activity.

It is a good time for such a constructive plan, with most of the existing plants in the country now working at capacity and additional facilities demanded in many lines of production. The small plants and small towns should be busy, as well as the big ones. There are human values in such plans more important, perhaps, than the material output.

THESE YOUNG CRITICS

PARENTS and educators have been taking a lot of strong criticism lately about their blunders in educating the generation now emerging from high schools and colleges. Much of the criticism comes from the young folks themselves. A writer in the New York Times suggests that the older generation did one thing with great success. They taught the kids how to express themselves in public.

"The young people speak and write awfully well," he points out. "The speeches and letters and magazine articles and books in which the younger generation indicts the older generation are written with a vigor and a fluency and a command of literary resources that are quite remarkable. The maturity of the thing is often astonishing and nearly always impressive."

Maybe the older generation neglected discipline, having been over-disciplined itself. But it did permit self-expression, which was not always among its own youthful privileges.

Perhaps, too, the world these young people are inheriting is not really worse than the one their parents and grandparents inherited. It seems so because we

ASKED whether or not we can defend the Philippines, Navy Secretary Knox's answer was, "We can defend anything."

Of course, the secretary's questioner meant, "Can we defend the islands against Japan?" From chats I've had with a great many naval officers in our service, I conclude that generally they agree with Frank Knox—we can do it. They concur, however, that it must be a terrible chore and an enormously expensive one.

Naturally it will be a job for our sea fighters to attend to. To get to the archipelago's vicinity they'll have to cross two or three thousand miles of ocean, even from Hawaii, to say nothing of our western mainland. To be sure, Secretary Knox promises us more bases for our warships on the more, for instance. But there prospective bases are as far away as the Philippines are. There's all that salt water to negotiate, no matter how many bases we have. Japan, on the opposite hand, has a formidable base at the southern end of Formosa, a scant overnight's steaming from a northern Filipino landing.

Obviously the clash, if one occurs, will be mapped especially for the Japs' convenience and about as inconvenient and about as bluish inconceivable as possible from Uncle Sam's standpoint.

WHAT CAN WE GAIN? And if, again, the rumpus does eventuate, and if we win, as forecast by Secretary Knox, with our

FRENCH ADMIT ORDERS

WASHINGTON—It has not leaked out yet, but the State Department went pretty far in pressuring the Vichy Government to surrender the 93 planes which the U. S. Navy once sold France and which now are rusting away at Martinique. The State Department even threatened to sever diplomatic relations if the French were too stiff-necked about these airplanes.

Sumner Welles has had several talks with Ambassador Henri-Haye regarding Martinique, and at one time when Welles asked that the planes be returned to the United States, the French Ambassador actually replied: "I'm afraid it might get us into trouble with Berlin."

In other words, Vichy is taking orders from Berlin almost every step of the way. Meanwhile the agreement negotiated by Marshal Petain and Hitler is cloaked in the strictest secrecy. Some of the main points have leaked out, however, and if these leaks are correct, France and Germany agree to cooperate for the peace of Europe. Since Great Britain is now the only country disturbing "the peace of Europe"—at least in the eyes of the Nazis—this means that France will cooperate with Germany in forcing Britain into peace.

This is the formula by which France justifies the leasing to Germany of her naval bases and airfields around the Mediterranean. This means Nazi control of Syria, all-important in the Nazi drive from the Balkans to Suez, and Dakar, which is all-important in disrupting British shipping lines around the tip end of Africa to Australia, India and the Far East.

WHAT HAPPENED AT DAKAR

French military circles have now brought back the inside story of the British fiasco at Dakar when General de Gaulle tried to land but had to turn back.

The British had secured secret assurances from the French fleet that the three cruisers which they let through the Straits of Gibraltar into the Atlantic would cooperate with the British when the British were ready to take over the important naval base at Dakar.

However, the French Navy is traditionally anti-British, inclined to be pro-fascist. The French Army, on the other hand, is vigorously pro-British. And the French Navy double-crossed them.

So when General de Gaulle appeared with British warships just off the Dakar naval base, the French officers, instead of giving up their advance pledge, opened fire. Simultaneously, French colonial troops came rushing down to the beach, virtually holding out their hands to the British to send landing parties ashore.

The British did not know the attitude (Continued on Page Ten) hoped it would be so much better. In a world or a period in which there was no awareness of social injustice or of the folly of war, there would be no sharp criticism of the people supposedly responsible. No, these youngsters today may have been mistaught in many things, but their education has not been so bad as alleged.

The Fifth Ages of Woman

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Of the seven ages of woman, we come to the fifth—motherhood. Just as not all men experience every one of Shakespeare's seven ages, so not all women experience this one. In our modern world many women are inclined to make it a matter of choice—they feel a career fulfills their requirements, and a home appeals to them as an inadequate career. I am old-fashioned enough or perhaps fundamental enough to think this is a mistake. The laws of biology are not mocked. Nothing in our modern world has changed us from being mammals of a certain order, genus and species. Wifehood is the only natural career and certainly the most desirable economic career for the adult female homo sapiens.

It is the only one that completely satisfies her spiritually and mentally. I can hardly argue that from the standpoint of physical health, motherhood does not bring a larger share of hazards, but maiden ladies run some physical hazards too. There was the brilliant monograph of my old friend Charley Manson, of Wormsley, on "Obscure Nervous Lesions in the Unmarried," the very title of which suggests what I mean. But the great damage to the career woman is on the spiritual and psychological side.

The Career Woman

One thing is certain that during this age a woman will be in more need of medical advice than during any other in her lifetime. In fact, she is so surrounded with it she starts to do a good bit of doctoring herself. And I, for one, don't blame her. After fifteen or twenty years of motherhood she should know as much about the practical things of medicine as most interns and, indeed, as many experienced practitioners. So far as the common ordinary things, such as recognizing a case of measles, I would trust her any time. And by the time she has passed her twentieth year she should have a list of remedies that can't be beat.

One of the faults of modern life is that there are not enough general practitioners to care for families at this time of life which I am speaking. Every young doctor nowadays wants to be a specialist, and everybody wants to have a specialist. So a family in the great reproductive period is parcelled out between an obstetrician, a pediatrician, a rhinologist, a radiologist and a gynecologist. It takes nine tailors to make a man, and it takes nine specialists to cure a little family nowadays.

When as a matter of fact, a good general practitioner can efficiently take care of ninety-five per cent of all the illnesses such a family has.

The worst feature of modern medical organization is that the average family doesn't know where to get hold of such a man, and is afraid of the fees of the specialists. I saw a movie the other night which depicted a young distracted husband who wanted to get a good obstetrician for his wife and was repulsed in the obstetrician's office and told the fee would be two thousand dollars. I hope that is an exaggerated picture. When the medical profession loses the confidence of the young family man in modest financial circumstances, it has indeed sold its birthright.

Answer—Yes, or even more. Bicarbonate of soda and other alkaline powders such as calcium carbonate or aluminum hydroxide neutralize the acid in the stomach which keeps the ulcer irritated.

SYNOPSIS

READ THIS FIRST: JUDGED winner of the Sembler contest to find a successor to NANA HARRIS, the company's famous radio songstress, KIT REILLY suddenly finds herself in the public spotlight and on the way to fame.

FRAN LE MAZE, Kit's friend, becomes her secretary-manager. After a farewell party given Nana by Kit, VANCE HEALEY, noted radio sports announcer, who gave her the chance to compete in the contest, drives her home. On the way he kisses her.

CHAPTER EIGHTEEN

"TILL GIVE you a ring one of these days, angel."

That was the first thing that Kit remembered when she awoke the morning after her party at the Stork club. She said, "Fran, from now on I'm not in to anyone on the telephone. Say I have a sore throat and can't talk. To everyone but Vance Healey."

It wasn't that she wasn't going to be in; nothing could induce her to leave the range of the telephone bell. The party had been on Friday. For six days she waited.

On the seventh, she was vocalizing when she heard Fran say, "No, Miss O'Reilly can't talk to anyone. She's got a sore throat. Who's calling, please? . . . Mr. Healey?"

Kit cleared the space across the room in nothing flat and fell on the instrument.

Honey ran through her "Hello!" "Hi, Kit! Vance Healey. Sorry to hear you're ill."

"Oh, I'm not ill. Not a bit, really! I—I feel fine."

"Glad to hear it. Wish I did. This is the kind of a day that gets me down. Lousy weather, isn't it?" "Is it?" Kit's voice thrilled. Up to some fifteen seconds before, the gray of the overhanging sky, the cold moisture of the February day had depressed her immeasurably. Now the day was warm, bright, different from all other days because of his voice.

"I've been toying with the idea of asking you out for a cocktail, but the day is so—"

Kit, afraid that he'd get away, interrupted. "It's nice here," she said. "And we're not doing anything. Why don't you come over and let me give you a cocktail?"

"Are you having a party?" he asked.

"Not another soul," she lied blithely. Fran could get rid of the others who said they'd drop in.

"Good idea. I'll be over in about an hour."

They rang off. "Miss O'Reilly, did it occur to you that we do not sport a cocktail shaker in this apartment? Or would you like me to ring up Tiffany and have one designed?"

Kit was half out of her lounging pajamas. "We'll do better than that," she retorted gaily. "I'll get one. And a pound of caviar. You call up the liquor store and ask them to send over the best they've got—mixed."

The rest of what she had to say she said over her shoulder as she tried to pull a frock over the hat that already was on her head. "And get the superintendent to send up a lot of firewood. Put a lace cover on the coffee table. See what you can do with some vases. Have a lot of vases filled with water when I get back. Put out my amber chignon hostess gown. Get me a cab!"

Vance rang the doorbell an hour and fifteen minutes later. Kit swept out of her bedroom in amber chignon looking as composed as if she'd spent half the day dressing. She cast a mental and physical glance over the situation. The cocktail shaker, she knew, was frosting in the refrigerator. The coffee table was inviting, with crystal and silver and small platters of canapés on the lace-covered top. Logs glowed and crackled in the hearth. The flowers were massed in fragrant blues and pinks and yellows. She moved a bronze bowl of early daffodils from the desk to the piano.

The bell was ringing sharply a second time when Fran came in with a bowl of caviar that looked like black pearls. "This is where Fran screams," she announced.

"No, don't go," Kit invited over her shoulder. There was no urgency in her invitation. Fran disappeared into her bedroom.

When Kit opened the door to Vance, he stood there for a moment framed in a doorway that seemed very small indeed. He filled it with his height. Kit looked up a long way at him and saw the dampness had curled his hair crisply and made it look darkly blond.

She said, "Come in and let me have your hat and coat. Under it, he wore a tweed jacket that smelled pungently sweet of the moors from whence the fabric came. Kit looked down at his brogues. "Task, task!" she murmured. "Where are the famed rubbers?"

"What a dangerous woman you could be," he said sadly. "You remember too much. Is it okay to tramp on these dainty rugs with wet shoes?"

"We call our place Liberty Hall and anything goes. Come in and get warm."

Vance's frankly curious gaze traveled over the room from the corner to corner as he led him into it. She wished she could get used to considering it a drawing room.

"Will it do?" she asked.

"It's a honey."

"I hoped you'd like it. It was designed for comfort. There's a beautiful view from there's something beautiful to view. I've drawn the curtains today to keep out the dreariness. Most of the time we keep the windows free, but these days when it's so dark! Let's sit near the fire." She felt like an endless phonograph record.

Vance's eyes met the array on the table drawn near the fire. "Say, this is a party." His tone was pleased. He crossed the room in long, easy strides and warmed his hands at the fire for a few moments. "He helped himself to a canapé."

Kit fluttered her hand in space. "Not really," she drawled languidly. "One always has a bit of champagne and a spot of caviar in the afternoon, doesn't one?"

He scowled. "You kidding? Hey, that's bad stuff for a hard-working singer."

Kit's laughter rose on a scale of thinking notes. She said, "Silly! Of course I'm kidding. Find yourself some cigarettes while I get the cocktails."

Vance walked around the room, pausing at the piano to look over her music, to study the water colors on the walls. He broke off a flower and put it in his lapel. When she came back with the frosty shaker, he was deep L. the only man-size chair in the room. He grimaced at her with the implacable grin she remembered and said, "some change from the Pride of the Golden Gulch, eh, gal?"

"Some change," she agreed solemnly.

He poured green gold liquid into two glasses and gave him one. They touched glasses and he said, "To whatever you want most."

They slipped slowly.

After a moment he said, "By the way, what is it you want most?"

Quick color brushed her cheeks, bones with pink. It was well he couldn't read her mind. She said, "Just what I've got, I guess."

Vance scooped caviar generously onto toast and ate appreciatively. He would not have a second cocktail.

"So you like the bright lights and the adulation of crowds, the autograph hunters and the flesh-pots of radio?"

"One thing at a time, mister. I like to have a warm, scented bath-tub and three meals a day. I like the feeling of good clothes and a comfortable bed. I love the room. As for the other things, I haven't seen any noticeable adulation and the autograph hunters must be out of town. Right now it's okay. I'm content with having no more than just this. Her gesture embraced the room.

"This is enough, huh? The things the checking account provides? There isn't something else that's more thrilling than merely spending money?"

Kit tried to think of something else, something he evidently expected her to say. She shook her head.

"That's funny?"

He hesitated a moment. "When I first saw you I thought—well, I thought there was something more than that, but let's skip it."

CONGRESS MAY TAKE VACATION IN SHORT TIME

Vote Throughout Nation New Record; Loser's Share Sets All Time Mark

won 21,392,190 in his 1928 victory while Alf M. Landon received only 16,678,583 while losing in 1936.

The President carried 39 states, including Michigan by a whisker where a recount may have to be staged to fix the official winner. These states gave him a total of 468 electoral votes, when he needed but 266 to win. Willkie carried nine states, including his home state of Indiana, to get 63 electoral votes. He also carried Maine, Vermont, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota and Colorado.

The President won handily in the electoral college, but the tremendous outpouring of Republican votes—the greatest in the history of that party—gave the GOP many victories across the nation. The Republicans actually gained seats in the United States senate although suffering a net loss of a few seats in the house of representatives. Their greatest conquest was the capture of the governorship and senatorship in Illinois from the Nash-Kelly machine.

The GOP also retained control of the statehouses in Massachusetts and Ohio and won governorships from the Democrats in Nebraska and Delaware although losing GOP governors in Rhode Island, Connecticut, Michigan and Idaho. They may pick up a few more governors on final tabulations.

Mr. Roosevelt, however, can expect a loyal majority in both the house and senate. His great electoral victory may help to smooth out some of the troubles he has had in the past from rebellious conservative Democrats who fought New Deal measures.

All Appeal For Unity

The President paved the way for unity in national defense, by pleading for it just before his reelection and urging it afterwards. The same note was struck by Willkie, by Secretary of State Cordell Hull, by Vice President-Elect Henry A. Wallace, his defeated GOP rival, Senator Charles L. McNary, and a host of Willkie's leading supporters.

Willkie said: "I know that they (his supporters) will continue, as I shall, to work for the unity of our people in the completion of our defense effort, in sending aid to Britain and in insistence on removal of antagonisms in America."

The 1936 GOP nominee, Alf M. Landon, seconded this appeal. He called for cooperation between Republicans and Democrats on national defense but urged "political activity" by the minority to keep the New Deal on its toes.

Closely cooperating with the intensive land drive, Italian warplanes, meanwhile, attacked enemy positions along the roads around Jannina and Kalbaki in the Florida zone as well as other concentrations in the Lake Presba region.

Still more aerial units attacked harbor facilities at Voles and Patras, an airport and railway station in Jannina, the official military bulletin disclosed.

NEED FOR HABITAT TO AID OHIO GAME CITED

"Destruction of natural habitat is largely responsible for the reduction of wildlife in Ohio," Dr. Daniel Leedy, of the Wildlife Research station at Ohio State University, told 50 members of the Rotary club assembled at the American Hotel Hurricane for the Thursday noon luncheon meeting.

Dr. Leedy asked for the cooperation of farmers in promoting wildlife in the state, and stated that only through combining good agricultural practices with game management could game be increased.

However, conservation practices are helping to preserve wildlife in most sections of the state, he said. Conservation surveys show that there are 356 kinds of birds in Ohio, 66 kinds of animals, 164 varieties of fish, 14 of frogs and toads, and nine of turtles.

Dr. Leedy told Rotarians there are approximately four to five million rabbits in the state, two million squirrels, one-half million pheasants and 50,000 Hungarian Partridge.

THE GARDEN CLINIC

By VICTOR H. RIES,
O. S. U. Horticulturist

QUESTION: The barberry bushes in front of my porch have grown high, three to five feet or more, and have become very ugly and woody. If I should cut them off now just above the ground would they sprout up and branch out next spring or would it kill them? The two spirea bushes at the corner of the porch have become high and ugly. Would it kill them to cut them off now? G.C.W., Racine.

ANSWER: Practically all deciduous shrubs may be cut to the ground without danger of killing them. I suggest, however, that instead of doing it this fall you wait until just before growth starts next spring. I believe in that way there will be a little less danger of the cut stubs dying back before the new growth starts. Of course, it is always a good idea after severe pruning to stimulate new growth with an application of complete commercial fertilizer with an analysis something like a 4-12-4. Scatter this uniformly over the surface of the ground from the base of the shrub to a little distance beyond the tips of the branches. Use about four pounds to 100 square feet of soil surface.

QUESTION: I am having about the same trouble with my amaryllis as was mentioned in a recent Garden Clinic. I have been sinking my pots in the ground up to the rim about May 15 and leaving them there until after the first light frost. I have watered them during the summer; however, several of them did not bloom last year. A.F.B., Lexington.

ANSWER: I believe that possibly the difficulty you are having is due to the fact that you are not giving your amaryllis any definite rest period. As I suggested before, it is a good idea to put the pots on their sides out of doors during July and August and report them before bringing indoors before frost.

QUESTION: I am going to move two hard maple trees from the farm to our front yard. They are three or four inches in diameter. When would be the best time to move them? I would be very much pleased if you could give some information on the care of the trees after moving them. Also some tips on the actual moving as I have never moved a tree of this size. J.K.H., Cadiz.

ANSWER: In moving trees, particularly if they are two or more inches in trunk diameter, they should be selected from the fence rows or fields rather than from the woods. Only those that have been growing vigorously for the last two or three seasons should be selected. In moving

GERMAN PAPERS EXPRESS VIEWS OF RE-ELECTION

BERLIN, Nov. 7.—"In President Roosevelt the American people re-elected a man through whom they are convinced they will be spared a second European war adventure like that of 1917," the Hamburger Fremdenblatt commented today.

"Germany did not want the war and has never tried to prolong or extend it universally as Britain has done," the paper added.

"Because Germany has never lacked a desire to cultivate traditional relations with the United States, we will be satisfied if the election promises given the American people meet a fate different from that of (President Wilson's) 1916 promises."

Diplomatic Correspondence, organ of the German foreign office, said that "apart from domestic problems the war gave an extraordinary background to the American election," adding:

"Where the programs of the two candidates were closest, they did not conceal their sympathy for the other Anglo-Saxon democracy and each regarded American rearmament as the lesson of the European war."

"Both candidates repeatedly pledged that their country would not go to war. The American people made their decision and gave their vote to the man from whom they had gained the impression that, at least up to the present, he had fulfilled that program."

Tigers To Close 1940 Grid Year

Hillsboro To Provide Opposition For "Dad's Night" Crowd; Valentine Out For Evening With Arm Injury

Hillsboro's Indians, a hard-hitting aggregation of football players comprised mostly of seniors, come to Circleville Friday evening to help Coach Roy Black's boys ring down the curtain on a victory-less season. The Tigers have not gained a single verdict, two ties being credited to their side of the ledger.

Red and Black reserve strength suffered Wednesday evening when Chubby Valentine, fighting second string center, was hurt. He had an

New Position

EDWARD P. (Slip) Madigan, former coach of the St. Mary's College football team, has a new job these days—general manager of the $2,000,000 Golden Gate Turf club nearing completion at Albany, Cal. Madigan signed a three-year contract at $15,000 a year.

REMUS TAKEN OFF BLOCK WITH ONE BID RECEIVED

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 7.—Mr. Voel, one of the outstanding 2-year-old pacers in the middle west, today had been sold for $1,500. Mr. Voel, which paced the mile in 2:03-4 at Lexington, Ky., last month, was sold at the Ohio Horse Sales Co. auctions yesterday to C. B. Alexander of Cleveland.

Remus, second money winner in the Hambletonian stake last August, was put on the block but was withdrawn when he attracted only one bid for $500, offered by Bob Plaxico, Mansfield. Another effort will be made to sell the horse next week at Indianapolis.

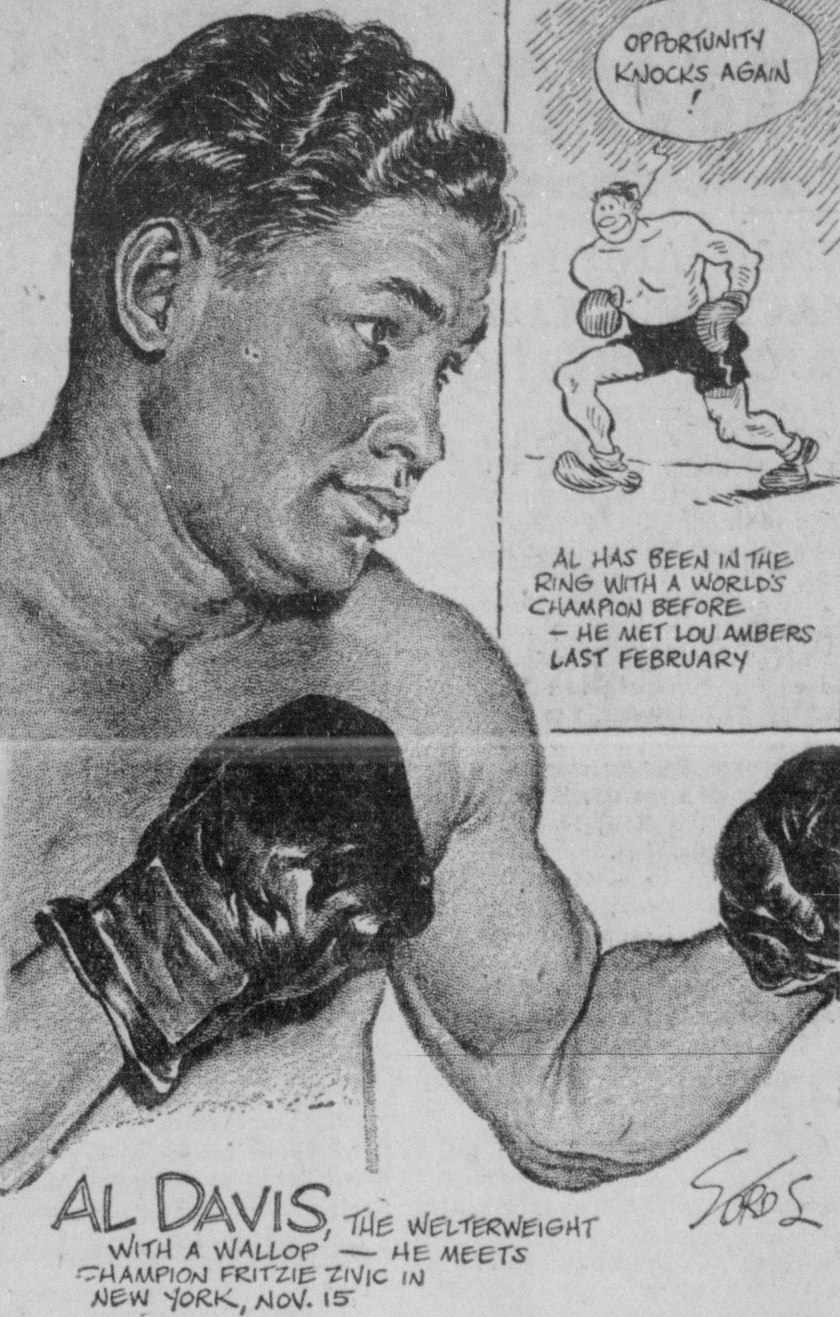

Weetamoe, consistent winner of the past two years, was sold for $850 to Neal Houslet, of Oxford, Wis. Noah Squires, of Greenfield, Mass., purchased Janice Lee, a trotter, for $875, and Isabel Grat-tan, a trotter from Mrs. Harry Levey's stable at Chillicothe, for $550.

BUCKS TO MEET FROSH IN STADIUM WARM-UP

COLUMBUS, Nov. 7.—In an effort to keep the Ohio State University football team from going stale, Coach Francis Schmidt today sent his varsity charges into a game with the freshmen. The Buckeyes are idle Saturday, but oppose Illinois a week later.

LOUIS TO FIGHT VETERAN M'COY

Bomber Leaves Politics To Make Plans For Ring Return

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Joe Louis today turned back from politics to pugilistics to begin preparations for a tongue-in-the-cheek heavy-weight championship defense at Boston against Florian La Brasseur, a French-Irishman from Maine known in fight circles as Al McCoy.

In announcing that this 15-rounder had been closed for December 16 under the promotion of Rip Valenti, of Boston, Promoter Jacobs also revealed that Louis will fight in New York in January and probably at Chicago and Detroit after that.

It will be a busy winter for the champion, according to plans, although the opposition is so utterly feeble that no thought is being given to the outcome of any one bout. In fact, even before Louis has taken on McCoy, Jacobs already is attempting to find an opponent for his second start, with Lee Savold, of Des Moines, on the inside track if he can get by Billy Conn with a creditable showing on November 29.

A loss to Conn would not necessarily bar Savold as an opponent for the Brown Bomber so long as the fight is fairly even, for McCoy qualified for his forthcoming heavyweight titular chance by being floored and beaten by the light-hitting light heavyweight champion.

McCoy is a veteran of more than a half dozen years of ring campaigning during which he has won and lost bouts with marked irregularity.

DYKES TO TRADE ALL BUT FOUR TO STRENGTHEN SOX

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Jimmy Dykes, the popular manager of Chicago's White Sox, was back in town today after a California vacation talking a great deal about his plans for the team next year, but saying very little.

The 1941 White Sox may be greatly changed from the 1940 edition, according to Dykes, and he is willing to trade off all but four of his players if he can arrange suitable swaps. The four he will not let go were named by Dykes as Pitchers Johnny Rigney and Ted Lyons, Centerfielder Mike Kreevich, and First Baseman Joe Kuhel.

Dykes revealed he had a number of players in mind he'd like to grab off for the Sox, but he wasn't naming them on the ground that if he tipped his hand too soon the price tags would be hiked up out of reach—and Jimmy's a business man who keeps the prices down when and if he can.

However, it is obvious Dykes will go into the trading marts looking principally for two good infielders, and possibly another outfielder. Jack Hayes seems a doubtful starter in the Sox infield next season because of a persistent eye ailment, and poor health led to Eric McNair's retirement in the middle of last season.

BAUGH IN LEAD IN PRO FIGURES RELEASED TODAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Slingin' Sammy Baugh of the undefeated Washington Redskins of the National Pro football league moved into front place in two of the various offensive categories for which statistics were released today.

Baugh led in the passing and punting departments. He completed 68 out of 96 aerials for a gain of 950 yards and an efficiency average of .708. He averaged 49 yards in 23 punting attempts.

Don Hutson, of Green Bay, moved into a first place tie with Don Looney, of Philadelphia, in pass receiving. Each has caught 22 aerials, Hutson gaining 201 yards and five touchdowns and Looney 444 yards and four touchdowns.

Jimmy Johnston and Dick Todd, both of Washington, were deadlocked for the individual scoring lead with 42 points each. Whizzer White, of Detroit, was first in ground-gaining, with 366 yards in 104 attempts for an average of 3.5.

Armand Niccolai, Pittsburgh, led the field goal race with six successes in 13 tries.

STANFORD AND GOPHERS LOSE?

Writer Picks Washington And Michigan To Win Major Contests

By Lawton Carver
NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Here they are without preamble or advance, the probable winners of next Saturday's two biggest football games, the two that will share national interest:

Washington to beat Stanford; Michigan to beat Minnesota. If we've missed them we've missed them quick, as the saying goes, but the more we think of about it the stronger is the conviction that the Huskies and the Michiganders must be figured to have a little edge in a pair of battles that are almost toss-ups.

The battle on the coast will go a long way toward settling the Pacific Coast Conference championship, for both teams are unbeaten in their own company, and the winner probably will wind-up ultimately in the Rose Bowl.

Michigan and Minnesota also will shed some temporary light on the Big Ten conference campaign. The winner of that one will be handing the other team its first defeat of the year, in or out of the circuit.

We like Washington and Michigan for almost identical reasons—both rested last week and should be a little better because of it. Of course, Michigan also has Tommy Harmon and his blocker, Forest Evashevski.

However, aside from all that we'd like to point out that if those picks go wrong, in neither case will it be an upset. We simply are taking rested teams over teams that played tough games last week.

BIG RED CHIEF SAYS SNAVELY DID NOT SIGNAL

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Cornell's Director of Athletics James Lynah responded with a vehement denial today to the charges that Coach Carl Snavely of the Big Red used a wig-wag system from the sidelines to guide his team to victory over Ohio State.

Lynah made the denials in letters to Asa Bushnell, commissioner of the Eastern Intercollegiate Football Association, and to L. W. St. John, the Ohio State athletic director.

Lynah chided St. John for making the charges public in the press before putting them officially on record or communicating with Cornell officials.

To Bushnell, Lynah wrote that he makes it a habit to keep his glasses focused on Snavely from his seat in the stands to watch the coach's reaction to critical situations in the game and that never once has he seen him signaling. Some times, under the stress of excitement, Snavely may go through many gyrations clutching a rolled up program of pieces of paper but this could not be construed as signaling, Lynah wrote. In the Ohio State game, Lynah said, he particularly noted Snavely's actions and not once, he asserted, was he able to detect anything that might be construed as signaling.

STANFORD U. CENTER RETURNS TO ACTION

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Nov. 7.—To the unsuppressed delight of Coach Clark Shaughnessy, Center Lie Lindskog, key defense unit of the Stanford eleven, was sufficiently recovered today to start against Washington at Stanford Stadium Saturday. Lindskog's hand was stepped on during the UCLA game last Saturday, requiring 10 stitches.

RUBBER SOURCE BEING HUNTED

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 7.—American rubber for American defense will be the subject of an expedition of the U. S. Department of Agriculture which in the next five months will take University of Michigan Botanist Carl D. LaRue over the Andes and into the wilderness rubber country of northern Bolivia and the upper Amazon.

Vital raw material in both war and peace, rubber has been placed high on the American defense "must" list, and Dr. LaRue's trip into the mosquito-infested Bolivian tropics is seen as a first step toward ending western hemisphere dependence on the Orient for its rubber supply.

PHILS TO SELL HIGBE; SEVERAL CLUBS BIDDING

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 7.—Walter Kirbe Higbe, young right-handed pitcher who won 14 and lost 19 games for the Phillies last season, will be sold to the Giants, Reds or Dodgers within the next three weeks, President Gerry Nugent, of the Phils, said today.

Higbe's sale at $150,000 is necessary to "pay for the players we bought this year," Nugent explained, adding the club would shoulder attendance losses itself.

Higbe came to the Phillies from the Chicago Cubs in 1939, winning 12 games while losing 13 here. After a poor start, he made a sensational finish last summer to bring his wins to 14.

CINCINNATI TO TANGLE WITH VOLUNTEER TEAM

CINCINNATI, Nov. 7.—The University of Cincinnati baseballs will play the University of Tennessee Vols in a football game next year, it was announced today by Coach Joe Meyer. The game has been scheduled for October 25, 1941. It will mark the first meeting of the two schools since 1919. The contest will be played in Knoxville.

KELLY AND NASH MACHINE LOSES MUCH PRESTIGE

CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—On the basis of virtually complete returns for all important contests in Tuesday's election, Illinois emerged today as one of the strongest Republican states in the nation.

Although President Roosevelt captured the state's 29 electoral college votes from Wendell Willkie with a comfortable margin of roughly 97,500 votes, the Republicans triumphed on practically all other fronts, dealing what was interpreted as a serious blow to the prestige of the Kelly-Nash Democratic organization.

In addition to electing Dwight H. Green, governor, by the greatest vote ever given a candidate for the office in Illinois, the GOP elected C. Wayland Brooks to the U. S. Senate, picked up six seats in the house of representatives, and gained complete control of the state administration for the first time in eight years.

Even in victory President Roosevelt lost considerable ground in the state. His 97,500 vote margin over Willkie suffered in comparison with his smashing plurality of 712,606 votes over Alfred M. Landon four years ago.

Green's triumph was the most complete. His total of approximately 2,145,000 votes represented a majority of about 245,000 over his Democratic opponent, Harry B. Hershey, and he out-pollled Mr. Roosevelt by 20,000 votes.

of the French Army. All they knew was that the anti-British French naval officers had opened fire. The British had no way of knowing that their landing parties might not be fired on also. So de Gaulle and his ill-fated mission sailed for home.

NOTE—Admiral Robert, French commander of naval forces at Martinique, is absolutely opposed to any surrender to the United States. He is sitting tight and contends that it will take a keg of dynamite to blast him from his position in the French West Indies.

COUNCIL DISCUSSES WAYS, MEANS OF CUTTING EXPENSES

DEFICIT FACED SINCE 3-MILL LEVY'S DEFEAT

Economies To Be Ordered In Effort To Reduce Shortage

RELIEF WORK TALKED

Clerk To Consult Budget Commission To Learn Definite Details

With its three-mill operating levy defeated by Circleville voters at Tuesday's election, city council at its meeting Wednesday evening began to formulate a program of drastic cuts whereby it might check a $25,000 deficit it anticipates for 1941.

No official action was taken at Wednesday night's session, although councilmen proposed a number of measures which they believed would save city finances. They attacked the manner in which the city's relief was being administered through the county office, accusing the county of "extravagance" in its handling of relief funds, and hinted it might be more efficient to handle relief through their own departments.

Councilmen neither accepted nor rejected the county budget commission's report, cutting the city's share of the tax appropriations by several thousand dollars, although they instructed Clerk Fred Nicholas to go before the commission Thursday to secure additional information. Although the tax rates have already been set by the budget commission, the city might appeal its case to the State Tax Commission in an effort to obtain more funds. Such action has already been taken by the Circleville school board, which recently voted to refuse the budget commission's report, and ask the Tax Commission for a 31 mill increase over the amount offered them by the budget commission.

Cutting the 400 candle-power street lights to 100 candle-power was another "economy measure" proposed. Councilmen were not certain how much would be saved through this action, but President

British Heroine

THE newly created George Cross, civilian award for valor, has been awarded to Miss Sonja Vera Carlyle Straw, 19, above, for risking her life to save others during an air raid. Miss Straw, whose duty it is to watch for enemy planes at Caterham, England, is pictured at her "observation post."

John Goeller announced he would consult the light company and submit figures at the next council meeting.

Funds for the operation of the public library may be cut under the new economy program. Councilmen are checking figures to determine the amount which might be saved through such action.

The Chamber of Commerce offered its service to the city, as three of its representatives, Clark Will, Carl Hunter and Tom Gilliland, appeared before Council. The Chamber representatives told councilmen their organization would be willing to offer suggestions for reducing the city's operating cost, and councilmen generally agreed that they should meet with Chamber representatives in the near future.

Defeat of the 3-mill levy has deprived the city of approximately $25,112, city officials believe, or a sufficient sum to operate the city for the coming year. This amount would not have been sufficient to handle debts already contracted by the city. The city owes Pickaway County nearly $9,000 for its share of the relief burden, and the light company more than $3,500 for street lighting.

WORKMEN START FIRE, PASSERBY CALLS AID

Men hired to tear down an old barn on the C. A. Barnes property, South Washington Street, built a fire in the center of the building Wednesday night to keep warm while they were working. A passerby saw the flames through the cracks of the building and thinking it afire, called the fire department.

The first public school in New Bern, N. C., established in 1766, was maintained by taxes on rum and other liquors.
